WORLD WATER DAY

The Head , Department of Telugu cum NSS Co-ordinator organised a programme on 'World Water Day' on 22nd March 2024.

HOD of Department of Telugu, Dr.S.Gulab Jan remarked on the occasion that world water Day is held annually on 22 March as a means of focussing attention on the importance of fresh water and advocating for the sustainable management of fresh water resources.

In December 1992, the U.N.General Assembly adopted a resolution by which 22 march of each year be celebrated as world water Day . In 1993 , the first world water Day was observed.

Without water there is no life on Earth most of the civilizations founded and prospered on the banks of rivers more than 68 percent of the fresh water on. Earth is found in icecaps and glaciers and just over 30 percent is found in ground water . only about 03 percent of our fresh water is found in the surface water of lakes, rivers and swamps. So water is an essential element which makes human beings and other creatures to survive on this beautiful globe.
